

Flexibility

EZcube Plus can take many forms across the office landscape with both seated and standing height privacy. It's versatile platform allows you to scale your stations up or down as needed to accommodate varying preferences across your entire office and change as those needs evolve.

Organizations require workspace solutions that encourage collaboration, integrate technology and complement varying work styles. Help support those diverse needs and promote movement throughout the day by combining your station with our Pivot height-adjustable table. Its simple and reliable design allows you to easily choose the most comfortable posture for the task at hand.

Adjust and Adapt

Spaces must adapt easily to support evolving work styles and workplace aesthetics. When it is time for change, you won't have to start all over and buy new products. EZcube Plus panels are designed to easily change out finishes, add on to existing panels for increased privacy and reconfigure your workspace to adapt to your new needs.

Laying the Foundation

The changing nature of work is always evolving and so are our products which is why EZcube Plus was formed after the original introduction of EZcube. We wanted to research what our customers valued the most then put it into a versatile furniture system that would help accommodate the different ways people work.
